

Lauren Crump

Lauren studied instrumental music education at Missouri State University. She previously worked at James River Church for 4 years where she assisted in the coordination of conferences, assimilation programs, and resources for the church. Lauren currently serves in both children's ministries and video production at her local church and leads a small group.

Lauren strongly believes in helping girls of all ages find their identity and purpose in Jesus Christ. She loves the curriculum, activities, and community Girls Ministries provides in order to help girls grow and develop their relationship with God.

She currently serves as the Curriculum and Resource Coordinator for National Girls Ministries.
